Add the results of each column:

$$1 \times \underline{\quad} = \underline{\quad} \quad 2 \times \underline{\quad} = \underline{\quad} \quad 3 \times \underline{\quad} = \underline{\quad} \quad 4 \times \underline{\quad} = \underline{\quad}$$

Add these four results = %

The number obtained, expressed in percentage, represents your degree of satisfaction within the relationship. The higher the number, deeper is your love and happiness.

Summary explanation of the results:

- 76 to 100%: Very happy couple especially towards 100%
- 51 to 75%: Happy couple with your high and lows. Caution if you are close to 51%.
- 25 to 50%: Unhappy couple at risk of spiraling downward if there is no immediate action taken
- 0 to 25%: One of you if not both of you are seriously thinking about splitting / divorcing. You should consider individual or couple's therapy

For a better comprehension of your couple's degree of happiness, we suggest that you invite your spouse to undertake the same questionnaire and use the results as the basis for discussion. Begin with the areas where you are both satisfied, then discuss your dissatisfactions. Own both yours and your partner's dissatisfaction and see how you can make them disappear.

Remember, you are not looking for a guilty party! Such an attitude would only increase the amount of tension within the relationship.
